Dear Coaches,

TSA had a positive conference call with the Special Advisor to the Minister, as well as the Director General of Sport, Arts and Culture - late on Monday afternoon.

The Department and Ministry recognises that there cannot be a blanket approach to sport and are currently looking for collective guidance from the SASCOC Working Group (of which TSA is a member) and individual guidance from low risk sporting codes on the best way to resume sport within the framework of the Risk Adjusted Strategy.

This process is formally underway and further to this they have officially requested that TSA provides a detailed return to tennis proposal.

While TSA submitted a guidelines document as part of the pre-implementation consultation process, the Department are looking for more information in specific areas.

Of particular importance will be for TSA to demonstrate that it will be able to monitor and regulate tennis coaches to ensure they follow all social distancing and health protocols.

Work began on an official (and detailed) TSA return to tennis protocol document last week (covering key areas such as players, coaches, clubs, facilities and schools) and this will be supplied to the Department of Sport, Arts and Culture in the next 24 – 48 hours. The sooner the better.

This proposal will then be subject to a four level approval process – ending at the national command council. This is the same process that golf is following.

The Department cannot provide a timeframe for how long this process will take, but it is highly unlikely to be resolved this week.

Kind regards,

Victoria Botha.
